STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY JUNE 9, 1896.

NO. 29

CHURCH CHIMES.

—Rev. Leslie W. Sprague and wife, Rev. Lilla Frost Sprague, have been installed pastors of the new South church in Boston. This is the first case of this sort on record.

—Rev. Ben Helm has returned from North Jellico, where he held a meeting, which resulted in 90 relocations, conversions and sanctifications. He will begin a meeting at Pittsburg the latter part of this week.

—Rev. Geo. O. Barnes is in the city and will commence a series of meetings at the court house to-night at 7:15. He is accompanied by his daughter, Miss Marie, who has with her faithful little organ done such efficient service in many a Kentucky community.—Bowling Journal.

—According to the late Baptist handbook, there are of Baptists in all the world 4,705,933. The large majority of these are in the United States, many being colored people. The immersions throughout the world were 245,037. They have 50,975 churches and 33,235 pastors and missionaries.

—Mr. P. W. Carter, who is never so happy as when attending a church gathering, was in Casey Sunday at the dedication of the Green River church, when he tells us 1,500 people enjoyed good sermons from Elds. J. Q. Montgomery, W. L. and Zack Williams, of Adair, and ate good things of world without end. The indebtedness of $150 was raised almost without effort. This is the fifth church that Bro. Montgomery has been instrumental in building in Casey in the 23 years he has been there.

—The Interior is mistaken in stating in its religious column that the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church had opened its theological seminaries to Negroes. The fact is that the assembly did take action on the case of a Negro who was refused admittance to the Presbytery of Charleston as a candidate for the ministry and the Presbytery failed to give any other reason for its refusal to receive him save that he was colored. The Synod of South Carolina failed to sustain this action of Charleston Presbytery and the Presbytery complained in the General Assembly at Memphis, and the Assembly sustained the Synod, thus putting the church on record that a Presbytery has no right to reject a candidate for the ministry simply because he is black. But the education of such a candidate for the ministry is another question. That in the Southern Presbyterian church is provided for in the case of Negroes by Stillman Institute, a theological seminary under the control of that church at Tuscaloosa, Ala., thoroughly equipped and specially endowed for the purpose of educating Negroes for the Southern Presbyterian ministry. So there is no need, even if there were a disposition on the part of any to open the theological seminaries of the Southern Presbyterian church to Negroes, and, as a matter of fact, the Assembly took no such action. As I know that the Interior has no interest in the matter beyond publishing the news and that it would regret giving circulation to an erroneous statement concerning a great church, I am thus moved to speak out in meeting and explain. W. W. BUCK.

SOMEWHAT LOCAL.

—News of the death of Mr. James R. Guogelli, at his home in Independence, Mo., has been received by friends here who feel sincerest sympathy for the young wife so sadly bereft. She was Miss Lettie Lee Rochester, who was born and raised here, and whose happy, sunny temperament will be remembered by all who knew her. May the Healer of the terrible wounds inflicted by death, sustain and comfort her.

—The entertainment Friday evening by Miss Sally Anderson's kindergarten class was highly gratifying to the patrons of the school. The training of the pupils and their manner of reciting and singing would reflect honor upon children of older growth. Much praise is due Miss Anderson for her manner of teaching.

—After an illness of several months of inflammation of the stomach, Mrs. Anne B. Hopper died at the family residence on Thursday night. Surrounded by her faithful and devoted children at the ripe age of 75 years, thus ended the earthly career of another one of Lancaster's oldest residents. —Yesterday's court was the duller for years. A small crowd was in town and little business was transacted. There was about 50 cattle on the market. Good two and three-year-olds brought 2½ to 3.05; butcher stuff was dull at 2½. A plug horse or two sold at $17 to $28. No mules were offered.

—Col. N. D. Miles says he has 160 acres of wheat that will average about 12 bushels to the acre. And also 90 acres of corn that is knee high. The crops in Jessamine will make a much larger yield than at first reported. Embury & Poor, who have been slopping about 500 head of cattle at Carley's distillery, have sold them to Lehman Bros., of Boston, at 3.65 and one car load of bulls at 2½c.—Jessamine Journal.

They will make Somerset their home and will go to housekeeping in a few days."

—Mr. W. H. Carr, a freshman, of Centre College, and Miss Alba Pope, of Boyle, eloped to Lancaster and were married by Rev. F. M. Hill. It was a genuine surprise to their friends. The groom is the son of a Pennsylvania coal operator and is said to be a fine young man. Mr. and Mrs. Carr will leave for the Key Stone State as soon as commencement is over.

Edmiston, Nannie Pleasants, McClure and Wilson Napier, Delong Wallace, Sam King, Willie Stephenson, Barnie Culton; Little Wilson Napier, four-years-old, carried off the honors of the evening. W. P. WALTON.

WHILE none of its acts were very creditable, some of the doings of the late so-called democratic convention at Lexington was a disgrace to the name of the State and to democracy. The unseating of the Music Hall delegation from Louisville by a committee on credentials, composed of men never heard of before outside of their respective townships and the endorsement by the convention of their action, was worse than infamous. It was done by order of the great mogul, Blackburn, and solely to humiliate Hon. A. J. Carroll, who had dared to vote for Carlisle for U. S. Senator over "the cave of winds." This is what he is said to have said and it must be true since his minions obeyed like a lot of spaniels: "Tony Carroll has no more right to a seat in a democratic convention than Bill Bradley, and as sure as God lives and reigns he shall not stay there. If the committee on credentials doesn't unseat him my people will take the matter up in convention and eject him summarily." There was no semblance of justice in unseating the delegation. It was done purely for revenge and against reason or right, save that which lies in might. The delegation was composed of the best citizens of Louisville, backed by every claim to their seats, but they were kicked out and Jim Williams and his gang of thugs seated, because forsooth, Williams acted as beiler for Blackburn at Frankfort. It is a shame and disgrace that can never be repaired and the more infamous since it was done in the name of democracy. Alas and alack that such a gang should be permitted to ride rough shod over decent people!

THE Richmond Pantagraph, which we take is the mouth-piece of Speed Smith, says that he expects to get the nomination for Congress by having the contest in Garrard decided on its merits and because of the fact that the Rockcastle convention as called is illegal. It says: "The committee called the convention for Monday, May 18, but the county chairman who was a Davison man, withdrew the legal call and held the convention the preceding Saturday." All the same the Lincoln horse is going to win. The machine is for him and the machine in this district is all powerful. It isn't our fight, but we are for Lincoln products, whether democrats, republicans or jackasses and here's hoping Lincoln county's entry may wear the laurels of a nomination.

JOHN B. THOMPSON says he has a walk over for the Congressional nomination in this district. He needn't be so cock sure of that. With Force out of the way, John Sam Owens, Jr., could defeat him easily as the thing now stands. We are not authorized to say he will do so, but Mr. Force's county having repudiated the principle for which he contends, it would appear that it is the better part of wisdom for him to withdraw. Mr. Owens's county stood by him and will continue to do so.

THE Virginia democrats, at least those who ran the convention last week, are an illogical and impractical set. They say they "are for sound money—the soundest that the world has ever had or can have" and then declare for free silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. As the commercial ratio is 30 to 1, there would be no gold coined and we would have silver monometallism with a dollar of it worth so much to-day and not so much to-morrow. The country doesn't want that kind of "sound money."

ONE republican office-holder at Frankfort has already been caught up with in his race and been fired from a position which paid $150 a month. E. B. McEuen, chief clerk in Supt. Davidson's office, confessed on being caught dead to rights that he had sold examination questions to applicants for teacher's certificates and was fined $50. Discharged and disgraced, he ought to enlist with the insurgents and fight for the Cubans.

EDITOR LANDRAM has grown tired of having a Cincinnati house print half his paper without consulting him as to what shall go in it and reaping a harvest of advertisements besides, and has caught the step of progress by discarding his "patent inside." His paper is now all home print and sent for a dollar a year. Hurrah for "Bangs." May his harvest of free silver be large.

IN order to make the thing solid, the radical majority in the House unseated Downing of Illinois, and now not a single democrat answers to roll call in Congress from that State. Lockhart, of North Carolina, was unseated, and now there are scarcely enough democrats in that body to order the yeas and nays.

URRY Woodson said before the convention that he wanted it understood that he was the great and original Stevenson man, having first named him for president in 1895. This is not very important, further than to show that Blackburn has enemies to his ambitions even in his own ranks.

WITH Blackburn as president and Jack Chinn as secretary of war we could twist the Lion's tail continually and with no fear of the consequences.

THE Jessamine county republican convention broke up in a big row. Although they are said to have been in the minority, the Davison men, backed by the machine, ran rough shod over the Smith-McKinley faction and gave them no show whatever. The dispatches state that every unprejudiced observer expressed the opinion that Smith's forces were in the majority, but they were given no quarter. Thereupon they bolted, 251 strong, and adopted resolutions in denouncing Smith and denouncing the other convention as illegal and unfair and gave emphasis to this: "We condemn the action of Gov. W. C. Bradley and his appointees for taking such an active part against Capt. J. Speed Smith, late clerk of our last Legislature, in his candidacy for Congress, believing that such action was prompted by the fact that Capt. Smith was an original McKinley man." It may do these fellows some good to kick and curse, but that's all they can do. It has been decreed by Gov. Bradley that Davison shall be given the nomination and and it is useless to kick against the pricks. All the same, Smith is making a game fight and deserves better treatment.

IN conversation with a silverite the other day, he expressed himself more forcibly than cautiously, over the manner in which the Harrodsburg men pushed themselves forward and got there. "It was enough," said he, "to have had Ben Lee Hardin on an important committee and to have made Wat Hardin one of the delegates-at-large, without running Jack Chinn down as a member of the democratic central committee for this district." And most of us who are not afraid of Jack and his knife say "amen."

THE present administration finds that the checks already on hand are not good enough to draw on an empty treasury and has had new ones made. Abe Lincoln will take John C. Breckinridge's place on the treasurer's check and Auditor Stone's little boy's face will ornament his. These changes seem to occasion a waste of money that is not there to waste.

THE president gave such good and satisfactory reasons for his veto of the deficiency bill that even the republican House could not gainsay it and declined to pass it over his objections by a vote of 40 to 149. There are some things so flagrantly fraudulent that even thieves may stand appalled at it.

THE convention at Lexington was very pronounced for free silver, free trade, free lunch, free whisky and for everything else free, except free speech. Speech over there was silver; the enforced silence of the minority must have been golden.

POLITICAL POINTS.

—It is believed that Congress will adjourn today or tomorrow.

—Col. John O. Hodges has announced for Congress in the Seventh.

—John S. Rhea has definitely decided to run for Congress in the Third district.

—Hon. Albert S. Willis has decided not to make the race for Congress. He will return to Honolulu.

—Local option carried at Brownsville, Saturday, by a majority of 16. The wets are going to contest as usual.

—Hanna, McKinley's manager, says that Bradley's withdrawal is a "shrewd move" but wouldn't say in what way.

—The House committee on ways and means, by a vote of 15 to 2, decided to report the Senate Bond bill adversely.

—Senator Goebel's fealty to Blackburn was in a measure rewarded. He was placed on both the State free silver committees.

—The Louisville Post says that Kentucky is not yet ready to acknowledge the leadership of Blackburn, Chinn, Williams, Sommers and Woodson.

—In the Virginia democratic State convention a resolution pledging the Virginia democracy to abide by the action of the Chicago convention was rejected.

—The democratic convention committee on credentials fired the sound money delegation from Graves county and seated both delegations from the Eighth and Ninth wards of Louisville, Bourbon and Kenton counties.

—Gov. Bradley says that he has not withdrawn from the presidential race and characterizes as infamously false the alleged proposition made to McKinley that he would withdraw for a cabinet position and throw Kentucky's vote to him.

—Five righteous men were found in the Senate, willing to support the president in his effort to save the people from the $90,000,000 river and harbor steal. Five righteous out of 90 seems a small percentage, but it is much larger than was found in Sodom several years ago.—Louisville Post.

—Now that the silver men have won their fight, it is to be hoped that extreme moderation will characterize their conduct. They should remember that while in the majority, they are only a portion of the democrats of Kentucky—that there are hundreds of tried and true party men who have worked early and late for democratic success, who believe in the single gold standard.—Woodford Sun.

—The National Organization of Mexican Veterans will hold their annual reunion this year at Lexington, beginning today.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

MR. W. S. WARREN'S chicken roost was visited Friday night and 35 chickens are now missing.

PATENTED.—Messrs. B. F. Ront and G. L. Penny received information yesterday that their electric light cut off had been patented.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Saltmarsh died Sunday and was taken to Seymour, Ind., yesterday by its parents for burial.

JUDGE T. L. SHELTON has finally been granted license to retail liquors. County Clerk J. F. Cummins accepted his money and issued the papers a few days ago.

The will of Mrs. Mary Fay was probated in the county court yesterday and that of Mrs. Hannah Jones held up, as her husband gave notice that he would contest it.

At the election for school trustee here Saturday, Drs. W. B. O'Bannon and J. K. VanArsdale were chosen in the places of J. M. Hall resigned and H. C. Ripley, time expired.

Those going on the Mammoth Cave trip Thursday morning will please deposit $10.75, amount of expenses, with either Mrs. Nannie Santley, or J. S. Wells, Wednesday.

HON. JAMES B. MCCREARY has not been heard from as to whether he can be one of the judges of the elocutionary contest at Walton's Opera House, June 19, but everything else is in readiness for what will be a brilliant occasion.

"Are you a candidate for judge of the court of appeals?" asked an I. J. man of Capt. Wm. Herndon, of Lancaster, yesterday. "My friends are pushing me for the nomination and you know what that means. They don't often push until they get an intimation of one's desire to be pushed," replied the captain, who is looking well and in good shape for an active canvass.

MR. A. H. BASTIN, of Grati Orchard, is one of the few men who have made money with a saw mill. A dozen years ago he had nothing and owed $1,500. Today he owes nothing and has some $18,000 or $20,000 worth of property. Energy and economy have been the secret of his success and if he lives long enough and uses the same motto, there's no telling how rich he'll be. A man who ought to know says that Mr. Bastin made over $4,000 last year.

WANTS HIS PICTURE.—H. B. Grant, grand secretary of the Kentucky Grand Lodge of Masons, writes to Secretary G. L. Penny, of Lincoln Lodge, that he wants the picture of Leander Cox, of his lodge, who was grand master in 1893. Any one having a picture of any kind of Mr. Cox would do the Masons a favor by sending it to Mr. Penny at Stanford, who will see that it is properly returned after it is copied, to be hung in Memorial Hall at Louisville.

SUICIDE.—Mr. George F. Anderson, who was on Friday's train, told us of the suicide that occurred that morning in Mt. Vernon. Mr. Arthur Herrin, son of E. A. Herrin, a well-to-do citizen of Rockcastle, on being rejected by a pretty young lady, Miss Addie Chitt, went to her home after shaving and dressing himself up and again asked her to relent. She declined to do so and he sent a bullet through his brain, dying at the feet of the woman he loved, almost instantly. It is said that he had also taken enough morphine to kill him. He was about 20 years old and is reported to have been drinking hard of late.

PRESIDENT SMITH's private car passed up to Middleboro Sunday. It is to be used by a party going from that place to Cincinnati. A box car would suit the average Magic City man just as well, it seems to us.

Smith and Boyle Woolfolk, Danville; Thomas W. Lawwell, Shelby City; and Robert Lyle, Lebanon. There will be no class day this year. Last night the customary gold medal oratorical contest was held, followed by a grand banquet by the seniors at the tiller house.

A FAIRLY good looking German woman got off the train here Friday afternoon and asked to be taken to an officer. Constable Benedict was soon found and to him the lady, who gave her name as Mrs. Alice Wildhaber, told the following story: "I am in search of my husband, John Wildhaber, from whom I tried to get a divorce three years ago and who recently kidnapped my two sons, who were under the guardianship of my father, Joseph Fieg. I live in Newport and it was from that city that the boys were taken. I am informed that my husband has located in Casey county." "I'll help you find him," said the officer, and the two left for Liberty in a buggy. Inquiry at that place was made for Wildhaber, but no one knew of such a person. Further search was made and at last a person was found who knew a man answering the description given by the woman, but who was known as John Cantlin. Mr. Benedict got Sheriff W. C. Adams and one of his deputies to go with him to the house of Cantlin, who proved to be the man wanted. The boys were there and a suspicious character from Cincinnati was also there as housekeeper. Wildhaber was arrested and taken to Liberty and on Saturday morning was brought here to the train. He and Constable Benedict occupied one buggy, while just behind the resolute little woman, her two boys and G. W. King, of Liberty, drove. Her erring husband was handcuffed and she was monarch of all she surveyed. "I'll make him wish he never had seen me before I get through with him," said the little irate woman to our reporter, "and I'll teach him not to live with other women till he is divorced from me." Wildhaber was about the sheepiest looking man we ever saw and if he was not dreading what was to follow, his looks betrayed him. Constable Benedict went with them to Newport.

THE Cottage on Whitley Avenue advertised by Harry Ramsey sold at auction yesterday to Mayor J. N. Menefee for $576.

LOCAL rains and thunder storms this afternoon and tonight. Tuesday fair, cooler tonight was the way yesterday's dispatch read.

THE commencement exercises of Stanford Female College were inaugurated Sunday with the annual sermon to the young ladies. Rev. F. S. Pollitt, of Frankfort, a former member of the faculty, delivered it at the Christian church and all who heard it were both pleased and profited by its excellence and appropriateness. The day was cloudless and the church was packed, there being room for not even one more, when President Spelton, the faculty and the pupils, most of them clad in spotless white, marched into the church and took their seats. The second part of the program occurred last night, when a concert was to be given and this morning at Walton's Opera House, after interesting exercises, the curtain will ring down on the pleasant and profitable session of '95 and '96.

Circuit Court.—The case of Marshal Frank Ellis for the murder of Henry Murphy occupied the court from Thursday till a late hour Saturday night, when the arguments were concluded. It was not submitted to the jury, however, till yesterday morning. The killing occurred at Junction City a little over a year ago. Murphy was returning with some boys from Burgin and took a pistol from one of them who was drunk and shooting, as he claimed in his dying declaration, to prevent him from doing injury to himself or somebody. When he got to Junction City the boy wanted the pistol and Ellis advised him to have Murphy arrested. He started to Judge Tuttle's to get the warrant and Ellis followed. They came upon Murphy, who said he hadn't stolen the pistol and would give it to him when he got sober. Ellis attempted to arrest him and Murphy became abusive. Then Ellis began to beat him over the head with a pistol, which made the blood flow freely. He took him to Hammer's, who ordered them out, as he did not want his floor blooded. Murphy went off and sat down on a box. His head began to hurt him and he again commenced to abuse Ellis, who started towards him, when he ran. As he did so Ellis fired, the ball taking effect about the hip pocket and ranging up into the bowels. This occurred at 5 p. m. Saturday and Murphy died at 2 a. m. the Monday following. Four speeches were made, Messrs. R. C. Warren and R. J. Beckwith for the defense and J. W. Yerkes and John S. Owsley, Jr., for the Commonwealth, and each is said to have done well. Ellis looks pale and emaciated from his wound and long confinement. Will and John Murphy, brothers of the man killed, sat with the Commonwealth's attorneys and Ellis asked the court to see that they were unarmed. At 8:30 yesterday morning, the case was finally given to the jury, which after wrestling with it for three hours, returned a verdict of 21 years. On the first ballot eight were for indicting the death penalty, two for two years and two for acquittal. On the second 10 were for hanging. Ellis received the verdict without sign of emotion. His attorneys will move for a new trial and if it is refused take an appeal.

The grand jury has returned eight indictments and is still in session. Among the indictments are one for murder against Anthony Alcorn, the patricide, and one against Dick Evans, Owsley Evans, Will Brown and Miller Broadus for breaking into W. P. Tate's store. They were brought into court and plead guilty, but declared they knew nothing of the robbery of S. H. Shanks' store. Their trials are set for this morning. Two indictments were found against Ben Kennedy, one for malicious shooting and wounding J. H. White and another for shooting at Will White with intent to kill.
